

IASWG Group Work Camp 2020

Experience the power of Group Work with students, teachers and practitioners from across North America.

Camp offers an opportunity to deepen your understanding of the group work method in an immersive, intergenerational learning community. You will discover the magic of mutual aid — and maybe your own unique power — by helping each other build knowledge and skill through engaging activities and workshops, reflection, and being together. It's time for group work. We hope you will join us!
